PARIS

In honor of the cherry blossoms in Japan announcing the start of Hanami festivities, Fauchon L'Hotel Paris welcomes Fauchon L'Hotel Kyoto for a month of celebrations where Chefs Baptiste Limouzin & Keiichiro Hayashi celebrate a Franco-Japanese gastronomic alliance between these two renowned properties.

What is Hanami?

The traditional Japanese custom to appreciate the beauty of flowers- mainly cherry blossoms known as ‘Sakura’, when from late March or early April they come into full bloom in a dazzling pink color... similar to the iconic Fauchon Pink.

From April 1 to 30, 2024, Fauchon L'Hotel Paris pays tribute to this ancestral tradition by inviting its Japanese counterpart, Fauchon L'Hotel Kyoto, for an immersive and innovative event. Like the contemplation of Sakura, Fauchon L'Hotel Paris offers a unique and ephemeral gastronomic experience to savour at the Grand Cafe Fauchon: "Kyoto meets Paris".

The four-part menu invites you to savour Franco-Japanese culinary delights, blending Japanese aesthetics, technique and savoir-faire with local, seasonal French produce: a promise of refinement and exception!

From starters to desserts, the Chefs will each create dishes embodying the gastronomic art of their country of origin, marking the starting point of this journey between Paris, city of gastronomy, and Kyoto, city of culture.

Le Grand Café Fauchon also offers the possibility of completing the experience with a food and tea pairing imagined by the chefs.

What would FAUCHON be without its macaroons? An exclusive flavour has been created featuring FAUCHON's "A Night in Kyoto" tea to celebrate this month of cherry blossom

WINE NOT?

DOLOMITE MOUNTAINS

Given the fact that the Dolomites are primarily located in Italy, it's no surprise that the wines of this region are rich, plentiful and sure to please even the most discriminating wine connoisseur.

Many of the valleys and hills of the Dolomites are home to their own vineyards and wineries, with the sunlight and seasons offering favorable conditions for growth. There are three grapes native to the Dolomites: the white Nosiola and the red Teroldego Rotoliano and the Marzemino.

Red wine drinkers visiting the Dolomites can enjoy the rich, full-bodied flavors of the local Merlots, Cabernet Sauvignons and Cabernet Francs. The slopes around Bolzano and Trentino produce the native blends of Teroldego, Shiava and Blauburgunder. Those who prefer the white variety will find Pinot Bianco, Pinot Grigio, and Chardonnay. Traminer, another white blend that hails from Austria, is described as deliciously floral and extremely light-bodied.

Join Dolomite Mountains for trips designed with wine lovers in mind:

- Food & Wine Luxury Active Experience
- Cities, Villages, Wines, & Oils – Touring the Val d'Adige, Lake Garda, & Verona
